Happy Valentine's Day from the CBU Alumni Office

Shonna Danielson Harris '98 and Ross Harris '93 made a CBU love connection but, strangely, not at CBU. Both are alums but were not in school at the same time- Shonna started at CBU a year after Ross graduated.

Like many alums, Ross stayed in contact with friends and faculty members after graduation. One of those faculty members was Dr. John Megley. Dr. Megley hosted an end-of-term cookout at his home for some of his students. Shonna and Ross met at the party but didn't go out- he thought she was too quiet and she thought he talked too much.

Later, CBU accounting professor and friend of the Megleys, Dr. Anne Kenner had a small dinner party and invited Shonna and Ross, separately. To this day, Ross believes there was a conspiracy at hand. According to Ross, he and Shonna had a great talk- "she spoke up and I shut up." They had their first date within a couple of weeks...and, as they say, the rest is history.
