Rod Ceasar was a sophomore at Christian Brothers College in 1970, and Anne Olmi was a freshman at Siena College. When they met at a party, Anne was dating a friend of Rod's. Not for long! Anne broke up with the friend, began dating Rod, and transferred to CBC when Siena closed in 1971. Rod says it was love at first sight... although there is some contention here since he and Anne still disagree on what she was wearing at the time. No matter though—three children and more than 35 years later, Anne and Rod still speak of each other with love and laughter in their voices. “I got a good education and a great future,” says Anne.

Anne and Rod Ceasar both graduated in the Class of 1973.
